Dear River Friends,

The St. Croix National Scenic Riverway is protected for an amazing array of attributes – clean water, beautiful scenery, rare plants and animals, and high quality outdoor recreation. The Riverway is a magnificent national treasure. It is also a fragile one.

In 2017, the St. Croix River Association (SCRA) added program staff to address growing concerns. Sean Griffin started last summer as an intern working on aquatic invasive species and has continued in a year-round position; his work has expanded to include the monitoring and control of terrestrial species such as Oriental Bittersweet. Nicole Butler joined our staff to coordinate the My St. Croix Woods program to maintain healthy forests and retain high water quality.

The growing success of SCRA cannot be attributed only to paid staff. We have always counted on our members and our partners to help ensure that 50 years from now the Riverway will look much as it does today. As one example of the ongoing threat, in 2017 one extremely short-sighted bill was introduced in the Wisconsin legislature that would have given an exemption from the St. Croix River Overlay district and county zoning requirements to a landowner that had blatantly ignored the town, county, state and federal rules. This happened as we were in the final stages of planning celebrations for the 50th anniversary of the 1968 Act that provided for Riverway protection. SCRA is very proud of our work to defeat this proposed piece of legislation. It took a coordinated effort and hard work by everyone – local elected officials, other state and national non-profit organizations, and most importantly people who live, work and play in the Croix watershed – to make the Riverway’s voice heard.

Fish. Boat. Swim. Explore. Relax. We all enjoy the Riverway in many different ways. SCRA is the official Friends Group for the Riverway, and our primary focus is to support the continued protection of this place and its world class experiences. We ask you to stay committed to protecting and enhancing the Riverway, and to help us expand our reach. Bring a friend to the Riverway and share your story. Be responsible when visiting; pick up trash, camp in designated sites, respect wildlife, be considerate of other visitors. Volunteer to protect your land and water. Enhance the wild and scenic values on your property. Support the St. Croix River Association, the official non-profit partner group for the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway.

Thank you for being a part of SCRA.
Your support and your voice matter.

With sincere appreciation,

A NOTE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

Following the celebration of the National Park Service’s centennial in 2016, our focus along the St. Croix and Namekagon rivers quickly turned toward planning for our own significant anniversary. In 1968, Congress passed, and President Lyndon B. Johnson signed, the Wild & Scenic Rivers Act. It was a landmark legislation to preserve certain rivers with outstanding natural, cultural, and recreational values in a free flowing condition for the enjoyment of present and future generations. As we all know, the St. Croix and Namekagon were among the original rivers designated and the only ones to be included in the National Park System.

In 2017, SCRA and NPS came together to identify goals for the 50th anniversary celebration. In accordance with the missions of both organizations, the overarching goal is to support and enhance the connections that people have to the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway, ensuring that the park remains an ecological, cultural, and community treasure today and for generations to come. The 50th anniversary will accomplish this by:

• Increasing the visibility and raising awareness of this National Park, the unique characteristics of the St. Croix and Namekagon rivers, and the value they bring to the region
• Inspiring people to be stewards of the watershed to protect the Riverway
• Engaging new and more diverse audiences, especially those from neighboring communities and the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

While planning for the anniversary got underway, the NPS – SCRA partnership continued to grow. We entered our second year of a habitat restoration effort at the Arcola Bluffs Day Use Area, a 165-acre parcel north of Stillwater. The River Connections Internship Program, in its fourth year, attracted another talented group of college students to work in aquatic invasive species, land management, and public outreach. The Rivers are Alive education program engaged students and teachers in hands-on learning, using the rivers as outdoor classrooms. Attendance at public programming and stewardship activities affirmed the strong interest in the rivers and a commitment to care for them. This collaborative growth gives promise for the continued stewardship of the Rivers for the next 50 years.

"Together, NPS and SCRA are making sure that people today and in the future can enjoy the natural, cultural, and recreational resources of this remarkable wild and scenic river."
